April Program

Building a contemporary oval drum table

This month's presentation by Bob Stevenson will be on building a contemporary oval drum table with a drawer.

The power point presentation and demonstration will cover designing and building a piece from a photograph.

The presentation will cover such things as creating an appropriate substrate, veneering, joinery, and finishing techniques.

The demonstration will be on selecting, flattening, and stitching veneer and veneering curved surfaces.

Although noted for his work in traditional furniture, Bob will be talking about this piece he was commissioned to do last July.

Come learn about some very interesting woodworking techniques and take home some valuable ideas for your next project.

This promises to be an outstanding program.

See you there,

Del Cover, Program Chairman

From the President...

Hello all,

If you couldn't make it to our last General Meeting, you missed out on some super savings during our first ever silent auction. There were nine items up for bid, and surprisingly the item that had the most bids was a Mikita belt sander (12 bids and sold for $26). The item that came up with the second greatest number of bids was the Lie Nielsen rabbit block plane #60 1/2 R (8 bids and sold for $90). Talk about savings, the LN plane sells new for $160, that's a hair over 43% in savings. Other great buys: Porter Cable plate jointer (557) $112, Porter Cable trim saw (314) $75, Craftsman angle grinder $20.

As tools become available, we will hold more silent auctions in the future. Thanks to everyone involved.

Do you have stage presence?

American Woodworker and Woodwork magazines are starting a video production department and are looking for skilled woodworkers with a good stage presence. I'd like to discuss with you ways to get the word out to your members. I'm not necessarily looking for established/well known woodworkers. In fact I'm equally interested in new/young woodworkers. As long as they have some skills and an interesting story to tell. To audition, all they have to do is send me a 3-5 minute (self made) video that introduces them, their talent, their credentials and a bit of their shop, or the shop that they would want us to shot at. We plan to do these on location. Audition videos are due by May 15th. I plan to tour the shops and meet with the finalist the week of June 6, while I'm in San Diego for the DIW judging.

Note: the audition videos do not have to be professionally shot, as long as the lighting and sound is adequate, almost any video camera should work.

Design in Wood

The Design in Wood show seems to creep up on us every year and this year is no different. Please see Bob Stevenson's newsletter article for more information. I'm not an expert by any means, but I can tell you this – Working the floor is the perfect opportunity to acquaint our community with not only the various pieces displayed at the show, but also with our fine organization. I love being out there talking about all of the good people involved with the SDFWA along with all the talent that our Association has to offer.

Working in the chair shop affords us the opportunity to use hand tools that most of us don't typically work with every day, and the sharpening is done for us. The best part about working either the floor or chair shop is that you don't need any experience. The shop masters and long time volunteers will teach you the ropes and you can learn as you go. It's that easy. We also need volunteers for set up and tear down. Last year it was done in record time and the process just keeps improving. If this type of volunteering better suits your needs, please talk to one of the chairmen at the next General Meeting. They will set you up with all the information. No matter where you volunteer, you'll find it very rewarding to support your Association and in doing so, supporting your community. I look forward to seeing you at the Fair.

Lastly, I am always available for and encourage, comments, questions and suggestions on how to improve our Association. We can't fix what we don't know is broken, so please speak up and be heard.

Thank you for supporting the San Diego Fine Woodworkers Association.

May 14, 2011

Our next shop tour will be at the home workshop of Howard Boehm. There will be an interesting demonstration of the Legacy Ornamental Mill. The mill is capable of making spiral columns, rosettes, rounded fluted columns, turned bowls, and much more. There will also be a tour of the projects that Howard and his wife have incorporated into their home from the shop. You will see the output that has been created on the mill and from the workshop.

Directions:

Take Interstate 8 east to the Lake Jennings exit. Turn left from the off ramp and go under Highway 8 and turn right on Blossom Valley Road. Follow Blossom Valley road for 2.6 miles and it will end at Quail Canyon Road. Turn Right on Quail Canyon Rd and go approx. 2 miles and it will be on the left. There is quite a lot of parking on Quail Canyon Rd.

May 14, 2011 9AM – 12PM

Chuck Anderson

Routers along with their many jigs and attachments are one of the most used machines in today's workshop. The operations possible with routers are almost limitless. Chuck will give a lecture and demonstration of this very versatile machine. Chuck gives a terrific overview and introduction to the history, selection, use and care of the router. He also demonstrates several operations and some of the many the jigs and operations possible with this machine. He also demonstrates how to mount routers upside down in a table and expand their capability even further. This is a good class for beginning and intermediate woodworkers.

2011 Fall Seminar

Paul Schurch

Veneer, Marquetry and Furniture Design

September 16,17,18, 2011

We are pleased to announce that world renowned, award winning artist, Paul Schurch is teaching our fall seminar. Paul has been a perpetual winner at the Design In Wood show and continues to amaze with his marquetry and furniture design. Paul is recognized throughout the world as a master artist. Lately Paul has been interested in teaching furniture design techniques along with veneering and marquetry. Paul's artist statement follows;

"The furniture I create is inspired by my connection to, and observation of nature. I see my furniture as an amalgam of classically influenced styles and contemporary shapes, playful imagery and exotic materials. My challenge is to bring these elements together, and create from them a story that works. This is where my creativity is expressed and where I thrive. I am excited by the prospect of reinterpreting timeless concepts in a fresh and unique manner. I feel I am doing so by taking the art of marquetry beyond its former confines, and by occasionally using stone, gem and shell inlay in my images. My intention is to create pieces of integrity, including beauty and function."

- Paul's latest book- Practical Furniture Design
- 3-day seminar Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday
- Breakfast rolls, donuts, coffee and juice provided Saturday and Sunday morning
- Catered hot meal lunch – Saturday and Sunday
