Our 37th Year of Bringing Woodworkers Together

The Next Meeting is 7 pm, Wednesday, January 31st,
at Our Mother of Confidence Catholic Church
3131 Governor Dr. - corner of Regents Rd.
Fellowship Hall (Downstairs)

January Program: Master Chair Builder Russ Filbeck

Dell Cover, Program Chairman

The first program for this year in our new location will be Russ Filbeck. Russ, who is a master chair builder and former instructor at Palomar, will be talking on several subjects; starting with oil finishing soft, fuzzy, fibered woods such as Kauri and Sycamore. He will bring in some new chairs including a musician's chair and an artist's stool. He will also be talking about President Carter's new book about his woodworking and showing a copy of it. For the last 10 years or so, Russ has been working with President Carter making chairs and tables for his charity auctions and has become very close with him. Last year, he gave us a presentation on President Carter's woodworking. There will be a short demonstration of the oil finishing. This should be a great start in our new hall. The meeting will be on Wednesday, Jan 31st at 7:00PM at Our Mother of Confidence Catholic Church, 3131 Governor Dr. - Corner of Regents Rd. in the Fellowship Hall (Downstairs). Hope to see you there, Del Cover

President's Message,
January, 2018

Mike Davis, President SDFWA

Happy New Year Fine Woodworkers! We are starting off the New Year with a few changes for us; most notably a new meeting location. We will meet at 7:00PM on the 31st of this month at Our Lady of Confidence Catholic Church at the intersection of Regents Road and Governor Drive in University City. I think we will all be pleased with our new location and we will find our meetings are better than ever. When you get there, come downstairs (down a ramp) and the meeting hall is below the church. I hope to see you all there.

Brian Murphy is kicking off his Wood, A Furniture Show IX, on January 12, running through February 3rd. It is to be held at the Escondido Arts Partnership Municipal Gallery, 262 East Grand Ave, Escondido, CA 92025. If you haven't been to this exhibit, you are really missing something great. It features some of the best pieces by many of the finest woodworkers in Southern California, many who are members of SDFWA. Head up there and see this wonderful exhibit.

Exciting things are happening at our Member Shop. In the last month, we have been holding classes in use of the CNC and Laser machines, which are two important additions to our shop. A major participant in the obtaining and setting up of these tools has been Travis Good, who has spent a lot of time in setting up the equipment and training the initial users and trainers. I want to thank Travis for his time, energy and devotion toward seeing that our member shop is successful in these areas.

The County Fair is rapidly approaching and Ed Gladney is starting to have planning meetings for this year's fair. The theme is, "How Sweet It Is." We will soon have the volunteer lists up on the web and at our meetings to sign up people to work in the chair shop and monitor the halls. Please reach out to Ed, if you can help in any way.

Palomar College will be having a Lie Nielsen Tool Event on Feb 2nd & 3rd. These events are always good to learn more about hand planes and other hand tools.

Well, here's hoping that all of you are starting off a good year woodworking and I look forward to seeing some of your projects at our Craftsman's Corner soon!

2018 Design In Wood

Ed Gladney
Special Events Chairman

Time to start working on your entry for the 2018 Design In Wood exhibition. Remember, there are more chances to win for SDFWA members. Entries close April 27th this year so it's time to get started if you haven't already. We now have 25 separate entry classes. Each class has 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th cash awards. In addition, Honorable Mentions are also awarded in each class at the discretion of the judges. These are State awards. Each class is judged by a well-known expert in their field. In addition, we have secured major donated awards from our many corporate and local sponsors which greatly increases the number of awards. We have over $20,000 in cash and merchandise awarded each year. We look forward to making our 37th year the best ever. Our co-sponsor, the 22nd Agricultural District, also looks forward to our successful exhibition. Last year's attendance provided the opportunity for over one and a half million fairgoers to see our exhibit.

The fair theme this year is, "HOW SWEET IT IS!". See the fair website: www.SDFair.com. There should be some interesting theme entries this year.

All entries are online and will be available on the fair's website beginning in mid-February at www.SDFAIR.com. The entry deadline is April 27th. There is plenty of help with entries from the entry office at the fair.

The exhibit opens on Friday, June 1st at 4pm and runs through July 4th. The fair is closed all Mondays and Tuesdays in June. Our award ceremony will be May 31st at 7pm. Other important dates are:

Registration Deadline: Friday, April 27, 2018,
Exhibit Delivery Date: Tuesday, May 22, 2018, noon to 8:00pm.

Exhibit Awards Ceremony: Thursday, May 31, 2018, 7:00pm.

Volunteers from our membership are desperately needed. The Design in Wood exhibition cannot happen without the support from SDFWA. It is the premier woodworking show in the nation (according to Fine Woodworking magazine) precisely because of the support from our membership. We really need your help. We have been experiencing a drop off in volunteers in recent years, especially for the last shift of the day and at the end of the fair. Please sign up online at www.SDFWA.org.

Volunteering at Design In Wood

What sets our show apart from others are all of you. We constantly hear Design In Wood is the favorite “must-see” exhibit at the fair. It is largely because SDFWA woodworking members are there to interact with the public; answering woodworking questions and supplying a great experience for fairgoers. Most questions from the public are easy to answer and we have plenty of knowledgeable people to help if needed. We really need your help, so please plan on volunteering. Remember the DIW show is “your show” and one to be proud of. It was the main reason SDFWA was established and (from our bylaws) the purpose of SDFWA “is dedicated to the education, promotion, and execution of the principles of fine woodworking to the public.” The DIW show is our main venue for achieving that goal.

NO experience is necessary to volunteer, and volunteering is very rewarding.

We need members to “walk the floor” to help educate the public about woodworking and protect the exhibits. A shift is three hours; although you do not have to be on your feet the entire time. We encourage you to take a break if you need to. We have a break room with soda, coffee and snacks. You receive two tickets for each shift or four tickets for each closing shift (last shift in the evening). It is not necessary to be a “master” woodworker to answer questions from the public. Even “beginning” woodworkers will know more than 99% of the public. Most questions are easy to answer, and we have plenty of help if needed. Number 1 question every year: “Where is the bathroom?”

We also need members to work in the chair shop, building children's chairs for charity. A shift is two hours. You receive two tickets for each shift. Learn some new hand tool woodworking skills from master craftsmen. The chairs we build by hand are donated to needy children’s organizations around San Diego. They are very much in high demand. Over the years we have delivered over 1,000 chairs to many worthwhile non-profit organizations. Volunteer for several shifts and you can receive enough tickets for your family and friends. Two tickets will be given for each floor-walking shift or chair-shop shift. Sign up online at www.SDFWA.org.

Setup

We need help with set up starting on Monday, May 14. In addition to free fair tickets, enjoy coffee, juice and donuts in the morning; a great lunch and refreshments throughout the day. Up to 4 tickets will be given to those who help with setup (exact number depends on amount of time helping).

Remember, sign up for a shift and get two (2) free tickets to the Fair. Sign up for several shifts and get enough tickets also for your family and friends.

AGAIN THIS YEAR: SIGN UP FOR THE CLOSING FLOOR-WALKING SHIFTS AND DOUBLE YOUR TICKETS TO FOUR (4) TICKETS FOR EACH CLOSING SHIFT.

Sign up to volunteer online at www.sdfwa.org

This is your exhibit, SDFWA. Let's make it the VERY BEST.

Member Shop Project

Gary Anderson,
Member Shop Chairman

It's my pleasure to report that the new Member Shop ended 2017 in fine fashion.

Financially, we are running right about "break-even" which is our objective. Additionally, we have a significant level of reserves that should allow us to weather any unforeseen "hiccups" in coming months.

More importantly, the Shop is running quite smoothly (knock on wood) and being enjoyed by our Members. At the end of the year, we had 232 Members with a steady increase each and every month.

By the time you read this, we will have completed our first annual planning meeting and set the goals we want to see achieved in 2018. One of those goals will be to continue to bring more Members into the actual operation of the Shop. We currently have about 50 Members serving as Shift Supervisors, Committee members and on various teams and task forces. But there are still many things we want to do that require more involvement by people like you! For example, we need a Secretary/Administrator to help with a variety of administrative tasks; including updating files and lists; creating and publishing our monthly calendars, etc. Most of this can be done at home; on your own schedule; and, in as many or as few hours as you'd like. If you can help us with this, and have basic computer skills, please let me hear from you. We also need "TA's" (Teachers Assistants) to help us with some of the classes we offer. I have been doing this in Bob Bostick's Introduction to Woodworking Classes and I can't tell you how rewarding it is. Not only do I meet and get to work with our new members and novice woodworkers, but I get to see them "catch the woodworking bug"! Again, this just requires a 3-4 hour shift once or twice a month. Will you help?

The new year will bring a host of new Training Opportunities you might be interested in. What we already have committed includes: Introduction to Woodworking, Parts I and II; Introduction to Scroll Sawing; Hand Plane Restoration; Laser; CNC; Jewelry Making; Shaker Boxes; and, Lathe. John Rieger, our Educational Director, is also working on a series of finishing classes; a veneering class; and, the possibility of another SketchUp class, if there is sufficient interest. Please check the website or contact John for more information.

Special thanks to Mike McElhiney, who donated a great deal of the raw edge wood slabs many of you saw at the last General Meeting. Pete Sterling conducted a blind auction of these pieces that raised well over $1,000 for the Shop! Thanks to all who participated! We can't wait to see what you make with those specimen pieces!

If you have not yet joined the Shop, we hope you'll do so in 2018. I know you have your own Shop at home. But you're really missing out on the camaraderie, classes and special events. I hope I'll see you soon!

Thanks!

Visit to the Member Shop

I stopped by the Member Shop on Saturday, and was blown away by everything I saw. I was intending to just take a few photos, but the joint was jumping! Tony had some Woodshop Wizards in his Junior Builder's Academy. Bob Bostic was teaching an eager group of students (many of them women) for the inaugural series of the Introduction to Woodworking - Part 2 class. They were involved with making a step-stool project, building on the basics of milling lumber flat and square in the Introduction to Woodworking - Part 1 series of classes. Plus there was at least one more person in the shop using the laser engraving machine. While I was there, I signed up a new member. He had found us with a Google search, and decided that the SDFWA Member shop was just what he wanted.

Mike Howell had a MeetUp scheduled for the afternoon---an introduction to the Shop including a demo of the laser engraving machine. As I was leaving, another person walked in off the street to find out about the shop. I pointed him to Mike's MeetUp for an introduction to the Shop---he also was very interested.

After two years of planning, one year of fundraising, four months of construction, and six months of operation we have built a simply amazing facility. And Gary has assembled an equally amazing group of people who are making it all work. We have put together a great selection of classes, and more are on the way. The new community groups are thriving and are an exciting way to bring together a more diverse group of woodworkers. There will be more construction projects to organize things better, and our maintenance and day-to-day operations are steadily improving, too. The energy is infectious---you can just feel that good things are happening.

If you haven't been by the Shop---you really need to visit---some Saturday would be a good choice. Or just take a look at the Shop calendar to see what's in store for any particular day. And even if you've been there before, you haven't seen how much is happening now, so stop by again and check it out.

2018 is going to be a watershed year for SDFWA. We all should be spreading the word that this facility is something to be very proud of.

SDFWA Members Favorite Furniture Styles, by Dick Ugoretz

The recent survey of our member's ideas about the Fall Seminar yielded a number of interesting results. Question #7 asked SDFWA members to name the furniture design style in which they were most interested. The clear favorite turned out to be, "Arts & Crafts/ Mission/ Greene & Greene."

After thinking about this, I realized I was not at all sure exactly how any one of these related styles differed from the others and decided to do some research. In this article, I will try to summarize what I learned.

The term, "Arts & Crafts" was originally used to describe a philosophy and social reform movement rather than a specific style of furniture design. The movement developed in England in the late 1890's, led by John Ruskin (1819-1900) and William Morris (1834-1896). Ruskin was a critic, author, socialist, philosopher, artist and conservationist. He deplored capitalism, and the industrial revolution; promoted individual craftsmanship; and, rebelled against mechanization and the elaborate, highly decorated style of Victorian furniture.

Morris originally trained as an architect but was also an influential writer, artist, and designer. He believed that art and good design were linked to good society and, with his designs, put into practice Ruskin's ideas about the value of craftsmanship, functional design, and the beauty of natural materials. In 1861, Morris founded the firm of Morris, Marshall, Faulkner & Co. which, at first, produced stained glass and other decorative items. Furniture came later along with textiles, wallpaper, tiles and jewelry. The original "Morris" chair, sold as the "Adjustable Chair" in 1862, was inspired by a rural, traditional prototype and copied by many other makers. Hallmarks of the English Arts & Crafts furniture include simple rectilinear forms, quarter sawn oak and sturdy handmade construction.

Over time the English Arts & Crafts movement's emphasis on craftsmanship led to the production of exceptional, more decorated pieces that only the wealthy could afford; in conflict with the ideal of well-designed furniture for ordinary people.

The movement spread to America. Gustave (he dropped the "e" in 1903) Stickley was born in Wisconsin in 1858, the son of German immigrants named Stoeckel. He learned woodworking in his uncle's chair factory, became manager and then the foremost maker of Arts & Crafts furniture in America. In 1883, with his brothers Albert and Charles, he founded Gustav Stickley & Co. in Susquehanna, Pa.

After traveling to England and Europe in 1895 and 1896 he became aware of the Arts & Crafts movement. Stickley visited furniture makers and was strongly influenced by their designs. By 1898 he had his own firm, The Gustav Stickley Co., in Syracuse N.Y. In 1901, he published The Craftsman, a magazine devoted to promoting the ideals of the Arts & Crafts Movement and his own designs which became very influential. Stickley furniture is characterized by unvarnished oak; exposed mortise and tenon joinery; use of vertical slats; nail head upholstery; no decoration except accents in copper, leather and tile. It was mass produced, affordable, became very popular and the style was generally called "Craftsman."

Elbert Hubbard, also influenced by William Morris, opened the Roycroft Printing Shop in 1895, and published numerous titles and periodicals popularizing Arts & Crafts designs in both architecture and furniture. In contrast to the English movement, American Arts & Crafts furniture was produced with steam powered machines and remained affordable. Arts & Crafts was eventually applied to ceramics, textiles and metalwork as well as furniture.

The label "Mission", originally referred to Spanish colonial architecture (U-shaped with an enclosed courtyard) in the American southwest, and came to be a synonym for "Arts & Crafts" in the early 1900's. Stickley considered the term misleading. One version has it that a Stickley salesman of Craftsman furniture told a newspaper reporter the table in his catalog could be seen "in a Spanish Mission in Southern California." The newspaper printed it as Mission style and the name stuck.

Hallmarks of Mission pieces include simple straight lines, substantial proportions, use of Native American symbols, leather upholstery and simple iron or copper hardware. The website of a current seller of Mission style furniture states, not very helpfully, "What ties Mission, Craftsman and Arts & Crafts style furniture together? These styles are often mixed together as one, sometimes referred to as Mission Revival. The classic mission furniture styles below feature elegantly simple designs, heavy proportion, accented joinery and wooden or brass drawer pulls."

Charles and Henry Greene, born in 1868 and 1870, were raised in St. Louis, Mo. and attended the Manual Training School of Washington University learning metal and woodworking. They then completed a two year course in Architecture in the Beaux Arts curriculum of MIT in 1891 in order to be certified for an apprenticeship. After working at several respected firms in Boston, they moved to Pasadena to join their parents in 1893. On the way, they visited the Columbian Exposition in Chicago and were impressed by an exhibit of Japanese architecture. They began a successful architecture practice in Pasadena and began designing houses; including the Gamble house in 1908. The brothers designed fixtures; built in seating and other distinctive interior elements for these homes; often using Japanese design elements. The first known piece of Greene furniture was a 42"x42" table Charles built for his fiancé in 1899.

Greene & Greene furniture features a host of distinctive details; Japanese motifs for feet, brackets, drawer pulls and carvings; the Chinese cloud lift and waterfall profiles for stretchers and shelves; Scandinavian slotted screw technique; non-flush adjoining surfaces; pegged finger joints; softened edges and corners; breadboard ends for table tops; square ebony plugs; visible splines; and, center guided drawers just to name a few.

Greene & Greene furniture making was greatly enhanced in both quality and quantity in 1905 when they met Peter and John Hall, who had emigrated from Sweden as children. After working in a Pasadena millwork shop, Peter became known as a master stair builder and opened his own construction firm in 1900. John joined his brother in 1906 to make furniture for Peter's homes.

The Halls expert skills and collaboration led to the production of highly refined, precisely detailed, beautiful furniture. Charles visited the shop on a daily basis, overseeing the work. Over the next decade their designs became even more sophisticated and included more decoration. Charles had always had an interest in carving and some of their late pieces included striking examples of his work.

Hopefully, the article provides more clarity than confusion about these wonderful styles. Here is a list with hyperlinks to some of the references used in preparing it.

Local Woodworkers in the Spotlight!

WOOD, A Furniture Show IX

The Escondido Arts Partnership is pleased to announce the ninth Presentation of WOOD, A Furniture Show IX, hosted by Brian Murphy of Murphy's Fine Woodworking. This exhibition will feature a gathering of some of the very best furniture makers in Southern California showing their work at the Escondido Municipal Gallery. A variety of wood mediums will be exhibited throughout the month. This exhibition is presented in association with the San Diego Fine Woodworkers Association. The exhibition runs January 12 - February 3, 2018.

The opening reception on Saturday, January 13th, provides an opportunity for the public to meet the featured woodworking artists from 5:30pm to 8:00pm. The show will feature pieces of amazing handcrafted furniture including contemporary, traditional, art furniture, as well as veneering and marquetry. Last year's opening had an attendance of over 450.

Artists who have exhibited in the past include: Brian Murphy, Amal McNew, Brian Carnett of Escondido, Paul Schurch of Santa Barbara, Jerry Beaudry of La Mesa, Dick Ugoretz, William Bardick of Temecula, Mark Giglio of Fallbrook, David Marr, Del Cover, Craig Thibodeau, Bob Stevenson, Patrick Edwards, Patrice Lejeune, Louis Plante, Paul Applequist of San Diego, and 10 other craftsmen. Special money and product awards will be made.

For more information about the exhibition go to www.escondidoarts.org

The Gallery is located at 262 E. Grand Avenue in Escondido.

Hours are: Tuesday 11 am to 5 pm; and Thursday through Saturday: 11 am to 4 pm. Exhibitions are always free and open to the public.
