September Program

Woodworking Machinery--European vs. American Made

Have you ever wondered about the actual differences between “American” and “European” woodworking tools? What are these differences and why should we care? This month Erik Delaney of Felder Group USA Machines and Tools for Woodworking will provide an informative PowerPoint presentation that will compare and contrast these two types of equipment. Topics to be covered will be innovation, safety, capacity and ergonomic design considerations. Erik has been active in the woodworking equipment industry for more than 12 years. In that time he has gained a full knowledge of European woodworking machines and their applications in the U.S. for both hobbyist and professional shops. He has made extensive visits to European equipment manufacturers to carefully analyze the levels of design and manufacturing quality that are part of the Euro machines.

As part of his time as a successful salesman he has been factory trained and is familiar with most of the major machine offerings. This experience has also given him a special insight on the differences between the classical American and European approach to accuracy, safety and productivity. With his experience he is able to shed light on some of the specific advantages of the European equipment and how its makers approach the American market.

Erik has worked with both the hobbyist and the professional woodworker and everyone in between. He has initiated design changes and modifications to make the European machines more suitable for the American marketplace.

This presentation promises to be very informative and interesting. Hope to see you there!

See you at the meeting!

September Raffle

Look at what's in store for this month! Rockler, Tool Depot and Bill Kohr's Craftsman Studio were all especially generous with special discounts for the raffle. Our sponsors are a major force in making our club what it is. Be sure to thank them when you see them with both words and purchases. Members who receive their newsletters by email often overlook the resource listing, and lose a major benefit of membership because they didn't go to the right store.

Here are seven useful prizes. I have all of them in my shop, and couldn't do without any of them!

1. Makita 5" Random Orbit Sander                      A fast way to a smooth surface
2. Hitachi 318 14.4V Cordless Driver/Drill              Powerful as a drill or as a screw and nut driver
3. Bosch Router/Plunge Router Kit                      A traditional prize for the past five years
4. Lie-Nielsen Edge Plane                              A handy special-purpose plane
5. Professional quality Biscuit Joiner Kit              A fast, powerful, easy and versatile joinery method
6. Set of Four high-quality Bar Clamps                  You can NEVER have enough clamps.
7. The usual bucket full of interesting tools, accessories and interesting wood

Ticket Sales start at 6:30, and only at the meeting. Come early and support this fun event. Every penny supports the purchase of prizes... More support means more and better prizes.

From the President...

Time has come for us to nominate candidates for 2008 board of directors. Del Cover and Dale Stauffer will be the nominating committee this year. Nominations are open between the September and November meetings. Nominations are closed at the November meeting during which elections are held. The SDFWA Board of Directors consists of five elected officers, President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and the immediate past president becomes the Director-At-Large. If the past president is not available, then the fifth board member is chosen by the board. Contact Del or Dale if you have someone to nominate. You can always nominate yourself.

Del Cover              858-270-7739      del@delcoverwoodworking.com
Dale Stauffer        619-840-5684      DDStauffer@cox.net

In addition to the five elected board members we have many important committee people that really run the organization and make it what it is. Any volunteer organization is only as good as the number of members willing to contribute. We currently have 33 committees, each requiring a chairperson. This is a great organization but if we are to continue to offer as many activities as in the past, we need more people to help. This is a chance to be part of the largest and most active woodworking organization in the world! Professional woodworking experience is not necessary. After all, most members consider themselves amateurs or experienced amateurs. We will train you and provide you with lots of help to get started. You will get to know a great group of fellow woodworkers and have a good time doing it. If you are interested in helping please contact me or any board member and we will get you started.

This is my last year as President. I wish to thank all the committee chairs that have served with me over the years. They are the ones that make this organization work.

I am writing this a few days before the seminar and unless we get a big number of people at the door we will have a low attendance this year. I want to know why. Is it the subject, price, time, schedule, location or something else? Please let me know. Send me an email and tell me what you think. Of course we also want feedback from those that attended the seminar. What worked and what can be improved. Let us know.

The gift giving season is quickly coming up so let's see some gift ideas at the brag table this month. See you at the meeting.

Shop Tour

9 a.m. Saturday, September 29th 2007

The shop of Patrick Edwards

Most of you either know or have heard of Patrick Edwards. Pats love of wood goes back 30 years or so and it is evident in every piece he touches.

Pat not only creates beautiful pieces of 18th century furniture, he also restores them. The Antique Refinishers Inc. provides restoration and conservation of pre-industrial American and European furniture for private collectors, dealers and institutions. But his work doesn't stop there. Pat also offers instruction in French Marquetry and has an extensive collection of hand picked veneers to choose from. He gets his veneers directly from a fourth generation establishment in Paris.

If you want to see Pats shop, please come and join us on Saturday, September 29th at 9am. Pat's work can also be seen at www.wpatrickedwards.com

November 4th Old Tool Swapmeet

It's still a month away, but this is the last newsletter before this great Fall happening.

It's the morning daylight savings time ends, so remember to set your alarm clock and your watch before you go to bed Saturday night. Just as importantly, start looking around your shop for things someone else might need more than you. Swap it or turn it into cash for new good stuff.

Twice a year, at 6:00 AM on the first Sundays in April and in November the San Diego Fine Woodworkers Association, Rockler, and the PAST tool collectors' club bring together dozens of sellers and hundreds of buyers to sell, trade, bargain and barter.

Rockler provides the space and our Association provides the publicity for an event that gets bigger and better every time.

It's the right place to buy or sell or trade hand and power tools, woodworking machinery, wood, finishing equipment and supplies, publications, hardware and other good stuff, and it's all free for both buyers and sellers. It's pretty much finished by noon, so you should get there early to make the best deals and see your woodworking and tool collecting friends. I do both, so I'll see you there. Call me if you need more information. Rockler is at 8199 Clairemont Mesa Blvd., between 805 and 163.

Bill Collins, Swapmeet Chair , 619- 232-4626.

September Membership Report

As of 10 September 2007 the membership is 1415, some 40 below the number at this date last year. The shortfall is about equally divided between renewals and new enrollments. There are 504 spouses with member cards and 523 members have chosen to get their newsletters from our website.

Although I have no plans to retire as Membership Chairman, I believe that, given my advanced age, it is prudent to seek a prospective successor to learn the routine and take over when it becomes wise or necessary. Reasonable facility with a computer is required. Our membership records are kept in a database (Microsoft ACCESS, a part of Office Pro). The association has provided this software if you don't have it. Transmittal of the information to others (on a need-to-know basis) is usually done as a spreadsheet (Microsoft EXCEL) which is easily exported from ACCESS format.

Our P.O. Box is at the Midway Post Office so reasonable access to this site is to be considered. The job does take some significant time which suggests that this assignment could be an attractive one for a retiree, or someone anticipating retirement, or someone with a flexible work schedule. Important assistance has been given by Harry Baldwin who manages the mailing lists, email and snail mail, and by Jim LaGrone, who greets new members by phone and at the meeting entrance. If you might consider joining the Membership Committee in the future, please contact me at lenwener@cox.net or at 619-222-5521 or speak with me at the membership meeting.

ProBono Letters

San Diego Fine Woodworkers

The community of Christ the King Catholic Church expresses our sincere gratitude for your generous donation of the wooden toys. The children and adults loved them. There were cars, trains and wooden animals throughout the festival. Your generosity was a thrilling addition to our May Festival. Thank you for a wonderful surprise.

Rev. Tommie Jennings
Pastor

San Diego Fine Woodworkers Association

I'm writing to thank you for the donation you made to St. Vincent de Paul a while back. We received handmade wooden tops and cars from you that ended up in my Family Literacy Program. I gave the wooden toys to the children as a reading incentive. When the children turned in their reading logs, they received one of your cars, trucks, or top.

I'm not sure if anyone thanked you for them, but I wanted to let you know how much the toys meant to our children. Our families arrive here empty-handed. The children have no toys to play with, nor do they have books to read.

My program offers many opportunities for families to begin reading together, but nothing works better than having a prize to give the children for completing their reading assignments.

Thank you so much for your support. You have made a contribution toward fighting illiteracy in San Diego.

Sincerely,

Jayne Gongol

Polinsky Center Project

Fifteen boys and girls in their temporary home at San Diego's Polinsky Children's Center spent an afternoon with three SDFWA members learning about wood and sanding and painting last month.

Al Devries, Carl Drake and I became instructors for the day, and fifteen happy kids became the owners of their personally decorated footstools, thanks to the cooperation of the Polinsky staff and the generosity of some great companies. Doug Qua gave the Association a lot of wonderful pine and parts for stools when his Quality-Craft company went out of business a few months ago, and we had assembled thirty or forty of them in my shop. We asked Ray Albright of Sharp hospital to find a good home for some of them, and those now help residents at the Sharp eldercare facility at Point Loma elevate their legs or climb into bed without assistance.

We still had a lot of stools left, and it seemed like a good idea to donate them to the Polinsky Center, which has received a lot of help from SDFWA over the years. The problem was that those of us who assembled them had no way to finish all of them. But there's an old saying, "If you have too many lemons, make lemonade," and that's what we did. I called Polinsky and they were delighted with the idea of our coming to the Center for an afternoon to work with kids to paint stools they would keep when they moved on to more permanent homes. Most had arrived at Polinsky without even a tooth brush.

We could have bought the supplies we needed, but being the resource/sponsor chairman gave me some great contacts. We wanted a clear sealer coat to make painting easier and faster for the kids. Sponsor Veejay Veljay of Shellac Finishes gave us enough shellac crystals to undercoat the stools. Next we needed enough brushes for all the painters. I headed for K-Surplus on Cleveland Avenue in National City, a place every San Diego woodworker should know about. I found a box of three dozen brushes and when I took them to the checkout counter I remarked that we would use them to teach Polinsky youngsters to paint. K-Surplus's owner then gave us not only the brushes, but a stack of 180 grit sandpaper and asked if we needed anything else. I knew we needed paint, but that would come from somewhere else.: our newest sponsor, Bayside Paint. Al and I took a couple of unpainted stools to Bayside, described our project and asked the manager for a really good price on a few cans of paint of various colors. He smiled and told us he had several cans of custom-mixed paint that had been rejected that he would give us. He added some color to give us bright blue and yellow for Charger colors, some bright red, and two shades of green. The colors were perfect for our painters!

The Polinsky kids and staff were overjoyed with the results, and have invited us to come often. This group was aged 7 to 10. We wanted to teach them to wash the brushes when they finished, but time ran out, and guess who washed out twenty brushes? The next time we go we're thinking about taking parts for birdhouses for older kids to assemble.

Glen Huey Seminar

Glen put on a great seminar. He is really down to earth and very accommodating. We learned new ways to do things and how to fix mistakes. Something we all need to know. The techniques he demonstrated are common to all types of woodworking, not just period furniture.

Bill Collins won the table and we look Forward to seeing the table finished.
